IMO, any members in DC should absolutely have firearms somewhere (legally) nearby.

He is being advised to wait till the 6th in reliance on Congress. His “legal advisors” are NOT actually advising him (not laying out all his actual options like a real staff member should, and then let him decide).

I'm putting Don Siekerman in overall command of this op. And then Whip, Josh and Kelly as his seconds because they have been to DC prior.

I always like to put LEO in command where possible so nobody get their panties in a wad over that.

Not that I am aware of yet. If nothing else, my hotel is in VA and has secured underground parking. About 15-20 minutes outside DC, less if you really don't care about speed limits...would be great if we had someone with an enclosed truck type vehicle and had a quick response unit just outside the city

A Leo told me when the whole defund the police movement started that we would see the good cops leave and only the bad cops stay. I think that may be happening now, especially in these more liberal states. We will need to be very cognizant of whose side the police are on.
