Source Reporting:

CHS reported there would be a Proud Boys March for Trump in Washington DC on Saturday, December 12, at 12:00 p.m. There is at least one pickup truck (approximately 5) from the KC Proud Boys chapter going to the event. Other KCPB chapter members are also discussing whether to attend. CHS stated there are no discussions of pre-planned violence, but at least one member mentioned looking forward to "cracking Antifa skulls" in self defense if given the opportunity.

Source Reporting:

CHS stated the rally in Washington DC on January 6th should be a concern.

CHS shared screenshots of 4Chan channel /pol/ where individuals were calling for a civil war on the 6th. One post stated, "a bunch of Trump supporters are bringing guns to DC on the 6th. A major shitstorm is bound to ensue between DC police and thousands of unlawfully carrying Trump supporters. How will this play out?"

CHS stated there was lots of talk on /pol and the r/the Donald. Normal conservatives are talking about conceal carrying at the rally, and that it is needed to save America.

Confidential Human Source (CHS), a collaborative source with direct and indirect access, most of whose reporting has been corroborated for [REDACTED], stated the following on January 5, 2021:

(U//FOUO) What individuals or groups are threatening violence in response to the arrest of Tarrio? [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

There are no plans for violence. CHS stated there is speculation that Enrique is released in exchange for a deal to curb violence. CHS stated the plan remained the same and the only violence will be self-defense from Antifa or other leftist groups.

(U//FOUO) What groups, individuals, or locations are the target of threats/violence in response to the arrest of Tarrio? [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

None.

(U//FOUO) What political or social events related to the 6 January Washington, DC rally would incite or inspire an attack by violent extremists? [REDACTED]

CHS stated the only violence at the rally would be started by the leftist groups. The rally attendees would only resort to violence to defend themselves.

(U//FOUO) What weapons, tactics, techniques, and procedures will violent extremists use to evade detection by law enforcement of violence or criminal activity? [REDACTED]

Rally participants use Telegram and possibly other end-to-end encrypted communication platforms to communicate. The main reason of using these applications is to avoid leftist group detection, not law enforcement.

Source Reporting:

Confidential Human Source (CHS), a collaborative source with direct and indirect access, most of whose reporting has been corroborated [REDACTED], stated the following on 1/6/2021:

CHS stated the Proud Boys were not involved in, nor did they inspire the breaking of the barriers at the U.S. Capitol building. CHS described the scene as the crowd doing it as a "herd mentality," and that it was not organized. The crowd was shouting "stop the vote," as they made their way to the Capitol building. There were no overt threats of violence made at that time.

CHS stated that the KC Proud Boys (KCPB) in attendance at the rally entered the Capitol building 30 minutes after the building was breached to help deescalate Trump supporters and law enforcement. Once KCPB entered the building, they told people to stop acting like anarchists and leave. KCPB told people to start bagging trash from where trash cans were thrown at law enforcement, along with a woman who was saying the same thing to protesters. KCPB grabbed an individual by the shoulders to stop him from throwing a chair at a law enforcement officer. KCPB told protesters to stop at the doors of the House of Representatives, and that their voice was heard and it was time to go. A law enforcement officer gave a thumbs up to KCPB, as they were trying to clear the area of people trying to fight law enforcement.

No one from KCPB were involved with battery of a law enforcement officer, nor did anyone damage property in the capital building. KCPB then went back to a rental house and adhered to the curfew in place. CHS stated law enforcement seemed grateful as KCPB ushered individuals out of the building.

One member of KCPB told an older "hefty" white law enforcement officer that the "Proud Boys deescalated downstairs, they are clearing out."

UIA Details

UIA Details:

Pursuant to guidance from the FBI's Domestic Terrorism Operations Section, potential prosecution is forthcoming on individuals who unlawfully entered the Capitol Building on January 6, 2021. The CHS self-initiated travel to attend the President Trump rally in Washington D.C. on January 6, 2021, with members of the Kansas City chapter of the Proud Boys (KCPB). The CHS notified the handling agent prior to his/her travel, and the CHS was subsequently tasked to make contact with [REDACTED] while in the Washington, D.C. area. According to the CHS, approximately thirty minutes after the security barriers were compromised, the CHS along with members of KCPB entered the Capitol Building in order to de-escalate and assist law enforcement by removing protesters and rioters from the Capitol Building. The CHS also stated he/she told people to start bagging trash where they threw trash cans at law enforcement. According to the CHS, he/she grabbed an individual by the shoulder who attempted to throw a chair at a law enforcement officer.

Will continued use of the CHS be requested? Yes

Does the CHS have immigration benefits? No

What is the seriousness and duration of the illegal activity?

The CHS engaged in the relevant conduct to assist law enforcement and remove people from the Capitol Building on January 6, 2021. In order to help restore order, the CHS entered the Capitol Building for an unknown period of time.

Has the CHS previously engaged in UIA? No

Has the CHS ignored any previous admonishments? No

What is the importance of the CHS to the FBI's mission?

What is the risk to the public from the CHS's illegal activity?

The public was not at risk as a result of the CHS's conduct.

What is the likelihood that the CHS will engage in UIA in the future?

The CHS is extremely receptive to FBI directions and admonishments.

BODY

Details:

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] debriefed the CHS on 01/13/2021, referencing the riots at the United States Capitol on 01/06/2021. The CHS was admonished for entering the Capitol Building, and the handling agents explained that the FBI cannot offer any protections if the CHS committed a crime. The handling agents asked the CHS to be mindful of self-incrimination during the debrief. The CHS agreed to proceed with the debrief and provided details on multiple individuals who may have violated criminal laws on January 6, 2021. At the request of FBI HQ, the CHS was asked about his/her willingness to return to Washington, DC during the Presidential Inauguration. The CHS expressed a willingness to return, however, he/she did not know of other individuals who planned to attend, and his/her placement and access was limited.

CHS forwarded post on [REDACTED] outlawed news channel on Telegram stating the following:

Stay home on the 20th. I live in one of the most republican states in the union and all of the information we have coming down the pipes is that there is trouble waiting for patriots this month. We have ppl inside the system who have told us that the feds are looking for places to set an example. We have nothing to prove or gain at this point with public demonstrations. All of the information that we have says that Trump is leaving office peacefully. Gather your people together. Prepare and build over the next couple years to make a stand when they come to take the last of our rights away. Don't make it easy for them. Don't give them anymore free wins.

PAYMENT REQUEST

Agents should utilize this block to document the operational necessity for expenditures (i.e. costs associated with a CHS debrief; utilization of Undercover Credit Card for CHS expenses; agent exceeding per diem allowance; alcohol consumption by agent) which normally would require separate SAC/ASAC approval. See Confidential Funding Guide for other expenditures. Specific operational details should not be entered here.

Costs associated with a CHS debrief.

The Attorney General's Guidelines dated 12/13/2006 require that the payment of any FBI funds to a CHS be made by an FBI Agent and another government official. However, in extraordinary circumstances, the SAC is authorized to approve an exemption to this requirement. This allows the FBI Agent to be the payer and only witness.

Is SAC approval for an exemption to the second witness requirement requested for this payment? No

Period covered for this payment:

Begin: 01/13/2021

End: 01/13/2021

Source Reporting:

CHS reported many Proud Boy chapters are disbanding, including Kansas City Proud Boys. Due to the label of terrorist organization being used in Canada, and concern of being called terrorists by the Biden administration. KCPB member [REDACTED] stated KCPB reject being named a terrorist organization and quit. The KCPB are going to keep "bonds alive through a new different independent group." [REDACTED] further stated "there was a big conference call and it ended up being a consensus to protect everybody best we can. Move forward in a smarter way that doesn't get a name in their mouth."

[REDACTED] further indicated Proud Boys [REDACTED] was also doing the same thing.

CHS opined that the group was going to exist in a more secretive way, so there is no group name and way for the US Government/Law Enforcement to blanket target for violations of law.

Source Reporting:

On April 5, 2021, Confidential Human Source (CHS), a collaborative source with direct and indirect access, most of whose reporting has been corroborated [REDACTED], stated the following:

CHS stated she/he heard about the rally/protest on January 6, 2021, online based on publicly available knowledge. At first the CHS did not believe anyone was going from Kansas City, but members of the KC Proud Boys stated their intent to participate in the rally on the group's Telegram channel. The KC Proud Boys (KCPB) was specifically told to not start anything, and to maintain a defensive status while attending the rally. The direction came from [REDACTED] the leader of KCPB. The CHS believed [REDACTED] created the post himself and not at the direction of anyone at Proud Boys USA. The members of KCPB that were going to attend the rally started preparing for the trip online. For example, the group decided that Ryan Ashlock was going to attend the rally under the CHS's wing because Ashlock had made inflammatory posts in the past in the KCPB vetting channel on Telegram. The CHS did not know exactly what Ashlock said because the CHS was not in the channel at the time.

The KCPB attending the 1/6/2021 rally discussed reports that Antifa was going to be dressed in plain cloths like Trump supporters. Accordingly, the KCPB members attending the rally were instructed to dress similarly and not wear Proud Boys colors. The CHS and other members of KCPB believed Antifa could be at the 1/6/2021, rally because [REDACTED] and a member by the name of [REDACTED] encountered Antifa while attending another protest in Washington D.C. on December 12, 2020. In addition, KCPB only heard of a few Antifa attacks on Trump supporters at the December 2020 rally, and they thought their presence helped quell additional violent attacks by Antifa. This was a significant reason why KCPB decided to go back to Washington D.C. for the rally on the 6th. The KCPB believed they were attending the rally on 1/6/2021 to prevent Antifa from attacking Trump supporters.

The CHS stated the group decided to bring general protective gear including, flack jackets and helmets, to protect themselves. The CHS brought a flack jacket and two motorcycle helmets, one to wear and another for anyone to borrow. In the morning, Billy told the CHS he did not bring a helmet and borrowed the CHS's helmet. The group discussed not carrying weapons because that would be seen as offensive, and would detract from their defensive stance and ultimate defense if there were any violent confrontations with Antifa members.

The CHS with other KCPB departed Kansas City on January 4, 2021, and drove to just outside Lexington, KY. [REDACTED] paid for a hotel that night. The CHS bought food and pitched in for gas on the way to Washington D.C. The group arrived in Washington D.C. the night of the 5th at the BNB house in Arlington, VA. An hour outside of Washington D.C., the CHS learned of Chris Kuehne purchasing orange reflective tape in order for KCPB members to identify themselves in the crowd so they would not get in confrontations with other Proud Boy members. The group had a meeting the night of the 5th where they discussed keeping safe, not getting lost, and if they did get lost, back out and find other KCPB. [REDACTED] discussed how in his experience things can devolve quickly, but the group should remain defensive at all times. Nobody discussed breaking barriers or taking any action with respect to the U.S. Capitol.

KCPB went to sleep at around midnight and woke up at 3AM on January 6, 2021. The group left the house, drove to find a parking spot, and took the green line into Washington D.C. The group was confused at first because they did not know where to go to meet up with other Proud Boy members. The group eventually walked to Harry's to meet up with other Proud Boys, and arrived somewhere around 7AM. The group stayed a couple of hours waiting to meet up with others, but nobody showed up. On the way to Harry's in the morning, the group was approached by an individual on a bike who identified himself as a member of a Colorado Militia. The militia member asked who they were, said he didn't know anyone, and asked if he could walk with them. The group then started wandering to find other Proud Boy members. The CHS got a hold of the Proud Boy Ozark members, and arranged to meet up with them on a street corner. The CHS then contacted [REDACTED] in Kansas City online to figure out where to meet other Proud Boys, which was the Washington Monument around 10AM. The group made their way there, and they ran into the Konolds, who similarly asked if they could walk with them. As the group approached the East side of Capitol building in the morning on the way to the Washington Monument, the CHS recognized the Proud Boys "mascot" in a wheel chair filming everyone. One of the guys flashed a hand signal that let the group know they found other Proud Boy members.

At the Washington Monument, Rufio called the entire group and instructed them to start marching. Rufio stated the group was supposed to march in a specific direction, not to get in front of leadership, and not to allow people who are not with the Proud Boys to walk amongst the group. If individuals wanted to join the march, they were allowed to walk behind the Proud Boy members, but not within their ranks. The group started a long march and stopped multiple times to take photographs. The group marched around the perimeter streets surrounding the Trump rally. Prior to stopping for food near the U.S. Capitol building, Billy asked Rufio if other people could join their march if they walked at the end of the group. Rufio stated that was okay. The group eventually stopped at food trucks on a street near the U.S. Capitol building. The group stopped and rested for approximately 20 to 30 minutes. The CHS described the group as just walking and following the people who seemed to be leading it. At that point, there was no talk or rumors of taking the Capitol building, and no talk of occupying the land surrounding the Capitol building. The CHS did hear discussions of the Proud Boys taking BLM Plaza later that night.

The group got called together and started marching again approximately 10 to 15 minutes before the first barrier went down outside the U.S. Capitol grounds. When getting closer to the U.S. Capitol building, the CHS noticed Trump flags moving closer to the barriers in front of the Capitol grounds. Around the same time the CHS saw people moving up the stairs past the barrier closer to the U.S. Capitol. The CHS was standing approximately 2/3s to 3/4s of the way back in the line of Proud Boys marching. The CHS stated he was marching with other Proud Boys and at the time did not think the Proud Boys had anything to do with taking down the barrier. However, the CHS explained that she/he changed their opinion when they saw the video of Billy and the Konold girl in the front taking down the first barrier. The CHS informed the handling agent contemporaneously with the first barrier taken down outside the U.S. Capitol.

The CHS stated that over 100 people passed the first barrier prior to her/him passing the barrier. At one point after walking past the first barrier, the CHS stated they witnessed a girl kicking another barrier in front of a black female officer. The CHS recalled the barrier was leaning and she/he grabbed the barrier to straighten it. The CHS stated

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

FD-1023

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

she/he immediately realized there was not going to be any way to help the officer, and backed off because it would look bad even if they were trying to help. The CHS stated the officer said, "fuck this," and left the barrier.

The CHS made their way to the area near the scaffolding for the inauguration with a large group of Trump supporters and a couple KCPB members. The CHS stated they hung back from the front line to the left of the platform made for the television cameras and watched. The CHS was standing with [REDACTED] and Chris Kuehne. The CHS went up to Ryan Ashlock and asked if he wanted to stand back from the front line. Ashlock stated he was okay and wanted to stay where he was. The CHS also went to Billy and asked if he wanted to stand back with them. At that time Billy pointed to the Konold girl and stated that they, "started this." The CHS stood back and watched law enforcement shoot pepper balls and flash bangs into the crowd. The CHS stated they stood there between one and two hours. At one point, the CHS saw Ryan Ashlock holding his eyes near where [REDACTED] was standing. The CHS grabbed Ashlock and poured water in his eyes. The CHS stated she/he did not see what happened to Ashlock, but told Ashlock he needed to stay back.

When the crowd moved forward, the CHS moved forward with the crowd to see what was going on. The CHS stated they walked up a flight of stairs and ended up near the flat area near the door on the West side of the U.S. Capitol building. When the CHS got to the flat part outside the door, [REDACTED] saw numerous people freely flowing inside the U.S. Capitol building. CHS stated there was no discussion of stopping the electoral college process. The CHS stated there were chants of stopping the steal, but no overt discussions of stopping Congress from meeting. The CHS stated they kept thinking, "surely this won't go past this." The CHS stated the group discussed going into the U.S. Capitol building for a while standing outside, including numerous excuses for not going in. The CHS considered whether the FBI would approve or if the FBI would want the CHS to observe what was taking place inside the building. The CHS ultimately overheard someone in the crowd state they hoped nobody was stealing or destroying things of historical significance. After hearing this, the CHS determined that there was justification for entering the U.S. Capitol building to prevent or observe and document individuals doing those types of acts. The CHS did not know prior to entering that those sort of artifacts were not on display or available for people to walk up and take or damage.

Upon entry in the U.S. Capitol building, the CHS witnessed people aimlessly wandering around. The CHS entered a small conference room on the right. The CHS noticed the room didn't belong to any Congressperson, and felt sorry for the cleaners because the carpet was extremely dirty. The CHS then entered a large round room with pillars. The CHS proceeded to an area where she/he witnessed a law enforcement officer in a tug of war match with a protestor with a chair. The CHS believed the protestor was going to hit or throw the chair at the officer, and to prevent the protestor from doing so, placed her/his hands on the protestor's shoulders. The protestor paused, and the officer quickly let go of the chair and ran away. The protestor after a moment threw the chair down the stairs after the police officer had left. The CHS stated she/he did not want to walk around shouting at people to "stop," as that would affect her/his cover. The law enforcement officer ran at the same time others were trying to block the overhead doors from closing.

After the doors had been opened, the CHS recalled being instructed by Chris Kuehne to move a podium to block the door. The CHS and Chris Kuehne moved the podium in the path of the door, but the CHS stated there was already a chair in the way of the door and the podium was not needed. The CHS then put the podium back near the wall. Chris Kuehne then directed the CHS to move the podium back in the way of the door. The CHS stated she/he could not remember whether the podium ultimately ended up in the way of the door, but remembered she/he was conscientious to not volunteer ideas, and to be told what to do by others. The CHS also mentioned that someone near her/him and Chris Kuehne said the door might be torn down. The CHS had earlier seen a metal fence torn down and the bars of the fence torn off to be used as weapons by protestors. The CHS thought the same thing could be possible with the metal door, and that moving the podium to prevent the door from coming down and being torn down seemed rational at the time. While inside the same area, the CHS observed the Konold brother wearing the spare motorcycle helmet that Billy borrowed. The CHS asked for the helmet back, and Konold took off the helmet and handed it to the CHS. The CHS stated the group she/he was in began picking up trash. The CHS assisted by shuffling trash into a pile with her/his feet.

About 10 minutes later, the group went downstairs and the CHS followed. Once downstairs the CHS saw glass doors with House of Representatives over it. At that point, the CHS thought the group had gone far enough made an announcement that the protestors' voices had been heard and that it was time to go. Around the same time, a large group of U.S. Capitol Police Officers, including a former police chief, talked to the group and informed them that there had been a shooting. The CHS made her/his way out of the U.S. Capitol building and assisted with telling others to clear the building. The CHS was ushered out of a window by law enforcement officers. The CHS was unable to get down a set of stairs outside the U.S. Capitol building due to the large mass of people trying to make their way into the U.S. Capitol building. The CHS stated the only way out was to climb down conduit near the stairs.

The CHS did not touch or take anything in the U.S. Capitol building. The CHS did not break anything. The CHS entered through an unobstructed door, and did not force her/his way into any area. The CHS did not put a hand on a law enforcement officer or security personnel. The CHS stated their mindset was to observe the activities in the U.S. Capitol building to report the information to the FBI. The CHS stated she/he believed the FBI would not want him to stand outside when a big group was going inside the U.S. Capitol Building, especially if they were damaging things in the building. The CHS took videos outside and inside the U.S. Capitol building. The CHS has approximately 29 photographs and 7 videos outside and inside the U.S. Capitol building.

UIA Details

Pursuant to guidance from the FBI's Domestic Terrorism Operations Section, potential prosecution is forthcoming on individuals who unlawfully entered the Capitol Building on January 6, 2021. The CHS self-initiated travel to attend the President Trump rally in Washington D.C. on January 6, 2021, with members of the Kansas City chapter of the Proud Boys (KCPB). The CHS notified the handling agent prior to his/her travel, and the CHS was subsequently tasked to make contact with [REDACTED] while in the Washington, D.C. area. According to the CHS, approximately thirty minutes after the security barriers were compromised, the CHS along with members of KCPB entered the Capitol Building in order to de-escalate and assist law enforcement by removing protesters and rioters from the Capitol Building. The CHS also stated he/she told people to start bagging trash where they threw trash cans at law enforcement. According to the CHS, he/she grabbed an individual by the shoulder who attempted to throw a chair at a law enforcement officer.

Guidance

The Confidential Human Source Policy Implementation Guide (CHSPG) states that when Continued Use of a CHS is approved after UIA, the Case Agent must re-admonish the CHS with regard to participation in the UIA before tasking the CHS again. The required UIA Admonishments are:

CHS is not to participate in any unauthorized illegal activity.

CHS has no immunity for participation in such unauthorized illegal activity.

These Admonishments were provided to the CHS on: 1/13/2021

Confidential Human Source (CHS), a collaborative source with direct access, most of whose reporting has been corroborated for [REDACTED], stated the following on 7/29/2021:

Following a direct question regarding the equipment brought by the CHS from Kansas City to Washington D.C. for the January 6, 2021, protest, the CHS reported she/he brought two motorcycle helmets and personal body armor that was worn that day. The CHS reported Proud Boy member, [REDACTED], loaned a set of body armor and two gas masks for use by any Proud Boy member. The CHS took the loaned body armor and two gas masks out of the vehicle upon arriving at the Arlington, VA, bnb, and does not know whether any member did, in fact, use them. The CHS returned the equipment to [REDACTED] upon her/his return to Kansas City. The CHS also reported that Chris Khune handed the CHS pepper spray for use against Antifa, but the spray was never used.
